

Report from the visit of Prof Harald Moi to Iceland 2013

The Icelandic Society of Obstetrics and Gynecology invited Professor Harald Moi from Oslo, Norway, to speak at the annual meeting of the society in Reykjavík Iceland, which was held in mars 2013.

This was made available by a grant from NFOG Fund.

Prof. Moi is a highly respected specialist in the field of dermato-venereology. His doctoral thesis from 1990 is "Bacterial vaginosis – clinical and epidemiological studies – aspects on pathogenesis".

He is still very active, both as a researcher, teacher and clinical doctor and works part-time at the Olafia clinic in Oslo.

His talk at our meeting was about Mycoplasma genitalium and ureaplasma, diagnosis, symptoms and treatment. He also talked about vaginal discharge in general and all the different aspects the doctor should bear in mind when confronted with the problem.

The members of the Icelandic Society of Obstetrics and Gynecology are very grateful for the support from the NFOG fund, in making this event possible.

On behalf of the Icelandic Society of Obstetrics and Gynecology, FÍFK

Sigrún Hjartardóttir MD